Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1 it is unclear if the article to be packed and the transporting vessel are a positive part of the claimed language as in a combination claim or merely set forth as a matter of intended use. It is also unclear what is a universal air cushioning material.

In claim 4 it is unclear what PE and PP sets forth as the materials should be specified.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(c) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tschantz et al (US 6,244,440). An inflatable packaging cushion 10 is disclosed characterized in that side portions forming end portions of above and below and left and right external frames of two superposed rectangular synthetic sheets are fused, see col. 2, line 20. As shown in figure 1, an intermediate portion 46, 48 and 90 is fused in accordance with the article to be packed and a pair of notches 42, 44 is disposed horizontally symmetrically. At least one air passage port 106 is disposed to form a plurality of mutually communicated air chambers.

As to claim 5, check valves are customarily used to prevent back flow of air from the inflation chamber.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tschantz et al (US 6,244,440). Tschantz et al col. 2, lines 8 and 9, states the sheets may be formed of any suitable plastic. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ PE/PE or PP/PP film that constitutes a raw material an antistatic agent is blended, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice, see § M.P.E.P. 2144.06.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David T. Fidei whose telephone number is (571) 272-4553. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 8:30 am - 4:30 pm.
